NON-GAAP TERMS DEFINED

In addition to the results the Company reports, the Company provides information regarding net operating income ('NOI') and funds from operations ('FEO') as supplemental performance measures. We believe NOI and FFO are appropriate measures given their wide use by and refevance to investors and analysts following the real estate industry. NOI provides a measure of rental operations and does not factor in depreciation, amortization and non-property specific expenses such as general and administrative expenses. FFC, refecting the assumption that real estate values rise or fall with market conditions, principal adjusts for the effects of CAAP depreciation / amortization of real estate assets. In addition, NOI and FFO are commonly used in various ratios, pricing multiples / yields and returns and valuation calculations used to measure financial position, reformance and value.

NOI

Total Portfolio NOI - NOI is derived from property operating revenues minus property operating expenses and real estate taxes. NOI is a non-GAAP financial measure that the Company believes is helpful to investors as a supplemental measure of operating performance because it is an indicator of the return on property investment and provides a method of comparing property performance over time. The Company uses NOI as a key measure when evaluating performance and growth of particular properties and / or groups of properties. The principal limitation of NOI is that it exclude depreciation, manutation, interest expense and non-property specific expenses and comparability for investor evaluation of properties performance of the company specific expenses, all of which are significant costs. Therefore, NOI is a measure of the operating performance of the Company's properties rather than of the Company overlation be interest.

The Company believes that GAAP net income (loss) is the most directly comparable measure to NOL NOI should not be considered to be an alternative to GAAP net income (loss) as an indication of the Company's financial performance or GAAP cash flow from operating activities as a measure of its liquidity, nor is a lindicative of funds any allelele for its cash needs, including its ability to make cash distributions. Because of the inclusion of items such as interest, operation and in the case of interest, may not necessarily be linked to the operating performance of a real estate asset, as it is often incurred at a parent company level and not at a property livel.

Same Property NOI - This is a management tool used when evaluating performance and growth of the Company's Same Property portfolio. The Company defines same properties as those it has owned and operated continuously since January 1, 2022. Same properties exclude ground-up development properties, acquired properties and properties add fater December 31, 2021. The Same Property data may change from time-to-time depending on acquisitions, dispositions, management discretion, significant transactions or unique situations. Same Property NOI does not include the revenues and expenses related to home sales, service, retail, diming and entertainment activities at the properties. The Company believes that same property NOI is helpful to investors as a supplemental comparative performance measure of the income generated from the Same Property profile is from engine to the next.

FFO

FFO is defined by the National Association of Real Estate Investment Trusts ("NAREIT") as GAAP net income (loss), excluding gains (or losses) from sales of depreciable operating property, plus real estate related depreciation and amotization, real estate related impairments, and after adjustments for unconsolidated partnerships and pink investmes. FFO is a non-GAAP financial measure that management believes is a useful supplemental measure of the Company's operating performance. By excluding gains and losses related to asies of previously depreciated operating real estate assets, real estate related to impairment and real estate asset depreciation and amotization (which can vary among owners of identical assets in similar condition based on historical cost accounting and useful life estimates). FFO provides a performance between that, when compared period-overlay depreciation and amotization, (which can vary among owners of identical assets in similar condition based on historical cost accounting aparent from GAAP net income (bis). Management believes the use of FFO has been beneficial in improving the understanding of operating results of REITs among the investing public and making comparisons of REIT operating results more meaningful.

Core FFO - In addition, the Company uses FFO excluding certain gain and loss items that management considers unrelated to the operational and financial performance of our core business ("Core FFO").

The Company believes that Core FFO provides enhanced comparability for investor evaluations of period-over-period results. The Company believes that GAAP net income (loss) is the most directly comparable measure to FFO. The principal limitation of FFO is that it does not replace GAAP ent income (loss) as a financial performance measure of GAAP cash flow from operating activities as a measure of the Company's liquidity. Because FFO excludes significant economic components of GAAP net income (loss) and not as a alternative to it. Furthermore, FFO is not intended as a measure of a REIT's ability to med debt principal repayments and other cash requirements, nor as a measure of working capital. FFO is calculated in accordance with the Company's interpretation of standings established by NAREIT, which may not be comparable to FFO exported by other REITs mainterpret the NAREIT definition differently.
